Champions for Change - 2017 Application

The Champions for Change (CFC) program at the Center for Native American Youth (CNAY), inspired by a 2011 White House initiative, recognizes and encourages inspirational Native American youth (ages 14 to 22) working in their tribal or urban Indian communities to promote hope and make a positive impact.

Each year, CNAY selects five inspirational Native youth to join the CFC program. Champions are individuals who initiate programs, events, or other efforts that improve the lives of fellow youth in Indian Country.

Below is the application form to apply for the 2017 class of Champions for Change.

**Note: You will not be able to save and return to this form. We recommend typing responses in a word processing document first and then pasting into the form when you're ready to submit.

Please visit CNAY's Champions for Change webpage for more details and up-to-date information on the program.

Student Essay/Video Form

We want to hear from Native American youth to learn about how you are working to overcome the challenges facing your communities. Please respond to each of the questions listed below in a written essay or video submission.

Videos must be no longer than 5 minutes. Essay responses must be between 500 and 1,500 words (between 1 and 2 pages, single-spaced).

- 1. What are the most important challenges you see facing youth in your community?
- 2. Describe your leadership initiative. What have you done to help solve the issues outlined in question number one? (This is the most important portion of the essay.)

- 3. What specific challenges or barriers did you overcome to make your initiative a reality?
- 4. How many people have been involved with or affected by your leadership initiative described in question number two? (Tell us how far and wide your impact has been!)
- 5. Describe examples of how your initiative has been successful in positively impacting Native American youth. (Examples are very helpful for the application review committee.)
- 6. What are your dreams for your leadership initiative? How do you want to see your initiative sustained and/or expanded?
